

Don't Be Blue

When you've fallen on your face
And everybody laughed
When you didn't complete the race
Everyone but you've been photographed
Don't be blue; you'll feel good again inside
Just rest you'll be alright

When you're losing your support
And you're down upon your knees
When there's a draught under the door
And your dog had caught the fleas
Don't be blue; you just see it'll work out fine
Don't be blue; you'll be up again in time.
Don't be blue; though you've a right to feel that way
Don't be blue; tomorrow is another day
Don't be blue; just rest you'll be alright
Don't be blue; you'll feel good again inside

© Philip Cockerham (2010)