

Green Blues

Woke up, my head full of sound,
Glass marble cracked, hit the ground
As I remember it the night was till in play
Something had broken my dream

Ran out my heart beating fast
I felt that something strange had passed
As every mother knows
The sky is full of holes
So wrap and tight and watch out
Green Blues

Looked up and there among trees
A broken kite, a beard of bees
And the through the hum
I caught a whisper of a tune
I swear it was Jerusalem.

© Philip Cockerham (2010)