

Orange Juice and Cold Potato Stew

Only for a moment did I miss you
Sitting in the corner with your coat on
Don't you worry, I am new here too
We'll together find what we should do

Talking very quickly - gave my full name
Was a little nervous, I must explain
Cautiously, I opened up my lunch
Hoping that you wouldn't laugh too much

Laughing in the morning when we first meet
Kicking up a rumpus on the windy hill
Doesn't get much better than we have
Sharing secrets sitting on the grass

Then another moment that I didn't expect
Looking all around but you were not there
Aimlessly I wandered up and down
Hoping that tomorrow you'd be around

Only for a moment did I miss you
Humming in the distance came a new tune
Smiling sweetly, "Can I walk with you?"
("Orange juice and cold potato stew")
