

Save You

Save you
From a pain that I can't believe
Lasted a winter long
I know it's not right to grieve
From a place that you don't belong
Waiting for a voice that I might have known
Whispering in the dark
With a message for me alone
Secrets I know in part
Save from the black night and the cold
Save you from the shadows on the wall
Save you from the bad land and its fight
Save us from the bottom of this night
Save you
